2016 Visitors Guide

BOULDER JUNCTION

Welcome

Musky Capital of the World®

Thank you for your interest in our Boulder Junction community and chamber!

Through the years, this community has evolved from a small wilderness hunting/fishing town and survived the logging industry's clear cutting of our forests. In present time, Boulder Junction remains the "Musky Capital of the World" and within recent years, Boulder Junction has also become a center for silent sports.

The completion of the over 47-mile Heart of Vilas County Paved Bike Trail System has expanded the trailways for biking in our community. Visitors can enjoy the beauty of the Northwoods as it winds through the woods and carries the visitor over bridges, along lakes and across fields to many breathtaking spots in nature.

The 194 lakes within a 9-mile radius of Boulder Junction is an angler's paradise! 45 miles of hiking trails and the many paddle routes bring exploring the beauty of the Northwoods to the highest level! Our community offers year round opportunities to the visitor in "Bringing Classic Back" with a variety of hiking, biking, paddling, boating, swimming, water skiing, fishing, birding, golfing, hunting, snowmobiling, cross-country skiing, snowshoeing or just plain relaxing with a good book. Photography enthusiasts enjoy the beauty of nature and the abundant wildlife.

Dining out, shopping and lodging are not a problem for the visitor with many fine restaurants, unique shops and lodging facilities available. Even with the laid-back simplicity of our community, Boulder Junction has the technological capabilities offered through most of our businesses and the Boulder Junction Public Library. Our website is designed for mobile use and offers a web page for each of our member businesses for our visitors on the go!

Plan your next vacation's ultimate moments for fun opportunities by visiting us on the web at: www.boulderjct.org or call our office for questions at 1-800-GO-MUSKY. When you are in town, please call or stop by our Chamber of Commerce Visitor Information Center, the little log cabin located at 5352 Park Street (Hwy M South), for personal service and local information from our staff.

Be sure to share your vacation photos with us on Facebook, Pinterest and Twitter. We look forward to your visit to our little log cabin!

Reminisce

The community of Boulder Junction traces its roots back to 1903, when railroad tracks were laid through this beautiful corner of Wisconsin's Northwoods. Though the rail line was built for the shipment of white pine logs, it also became a pipeline for hunters and anglers who flocked to this untouched area. A number of resorts popped up to serve the growing number of vacationers.

In the 1930s, a Chicago sportswriter who regularly vacationed in Boulder Junction coined the phrase, "Musky Capital of the World," a label which stuck, due to the fact that more musky are caught from Boulder Junction area lakes than any other similarly sized area. The phrase was awarded a trademark in 1971.

To learn more about Boulder Junction's history visit the Boulder Junction Historical Museum located next to the community center. The museum is open Memorial Day to Labor Day, Tuesdays and Saturdays from 10am to 2pm. Admission is free.

MUSKY JAMBOREE THROUGH THE YEARS!

The Musky Jamboree has evolved from what residents, resort owners and fishing guides planned as a thank you meal for their visitors and clientele to the present day weekend long event. They wanted to say thank you to the tourists for spending time at their resorts and fishing with guides.

Fishing guides provided approximately 240 lbs of musky for the first musky meal back in 1957. The meal in the 1950's was held in the Musky Corral behind the chamber booth where fishing guides supervised the cooking of the muskies with their secret shore-lunch recipe as indicated in an article written by Bruce Greenhill in 1996.

As time passed, the catch and release practices used by anglers limited the number of muskies cooked for the meal, so that what was a "musky meal" evolved in the mid-90's to a "taste of musky" stuffed with wild rice being offered to the visitors.

The Taste of Musky has been discontinued as of 2014, because many anglers respect the "catch and release" program which protects this magnificent fish from extinction. Since the celebration's beginning, the Musky Jamboree now spans an entire weekend of activities and takes over the entire downtown area. Evolving through time, the car show, art & craft vendors and Fun Run have joined as the featured festivities.

Join us this coming August 12-14, 2016 for our 60th Musky Jamboree Weekend Celebration is kicked off with a Friday Night Street Dance with Hip Pocket from 7pm-10pm. Saturday's parade with our Honorary Musky Queen, Stephanie Klett. Secretary of the Wisconsin Department of Tourism begins at 3pm. Following the parade, our 2nd annual Polka Fest will be held from 6pm - 9 pm at Coontail Corner. Then on Sunday, the 60th Musky Jamboree Craft Fair, Car Show, Fun Run and much more!

Thank you to our many volunteers, businesses and many visitors that make this weekend a great success!

See pages 7 or 10 for the schedule of activities.
